The 7th Annual OYE Latinx Youth Conference will bring together 350-400 youth/young adults and parents to explore ideas on Latino culture and identity, obstacles Latinos face, and opportunities for the future through interactive workshops, keynote speakers, performers and community networking. It's a great place where community comes together to support our youth.

This year's conference theme "Who am I?" and "Where are We Going?" combines the opportunity for youth/young adults to explore their own identity, culture, and passions while at the same time engaging with the idea that we are all part of a larger community.

Our keynote speakers this year are: Sarahi Salamanca, founder of the DREAMer's Roadmap App to help undocumented students find scholarship opportunities, and Representative Jewell Jones, the youngest elected official in the Michigan State Legislature (and possibly the youngest in the US, elected at age 21).
